

The Country Cooperation Strategy (CCS) is a document to guide WHO's work in countries. CCS is a medium-term vision for WHO's technical cooperation with a given Member State, and supports the country's national health policy, strategy or plan. The CCS time frame is flexible to align with national cycles and processes. It is the basis for aligning WHO's collaboration with other United Nations bodies and development partners at the country level.

>>All Country Cooperation Strategies

» Country health profiles

Afghanistan 2009–2013

[\[pdf 454kb\]](#)

Djibouti 2006–2011

[\[pdf 755kb\]](#)

Egypt 2010–2014

[\[pdf 755kb\]](#)

Islamic Republic of Iran 2010–2014
[\[pdf 478kb\]](#)

Iraq 2012–2017
[\[pdf 394kb\]](#)

Jordan, 2021–2025
[\[pdf 921kb\]](#)

Kuwait 2023-2027
[\[pdf 9.17Mb\]](#)

Updated version 1 June 2022–30 December 2023

[Libya
2016–2020](#)

Morocco 2013–2027

Oman 2021–2025 [pdf 921kb]

Palestinian territory 2017–2020

Palestine 2020–2025

[Qatar
2005–2009](#)

Saudi Arabia 2012–2016

Somalia 2021–2025

Sudan 2012–2025

Syrian Arab Republic

Tunisia 2010–2014

United Arab Emirates 2012–2017

