General disclaimers

The designations employed and the presentation of material in this publication do not imply the expression of any opinion whatsoever on the part of WHO regarding the legal status of any country, territory, city, or area, or of its authorities, or regarding the delimitation of its frontiers or boundaries. Dotted and dashed lines on maps represent approximate borderlines for which there may not yet be full agreement.

The mention of specific companies or of certain manufacturers' products does not imply that they are endorsed or recommended by WHO in preference to others of a similar nature that are not mentioned.

All reasonable precautions have been taken by WHO to verify the information contained in this publication. However, the published material is being distributed without warranty of any kind, either expressed or implied. The responsibility for the interpretation and use of the material lies with the reader. In no event shall WHO be liable for damages arising from its use.

The authors alone are responsible for the views expressed in this publication and such views do not necessarily represent the views, decisions, or policies of the institutions with which they are affiliated.

If authors are staff members of WHO, the authors alone are responsible for the views expressed in their publication and do not necessarily represent the decisions, policy, or views of WHO.

Any usage of the material as defined under the licence should follow ethical standards as indicated in the "EMHJ Guidelines on Ethical Conduct and Publication of Health Research", which could be accessed at: (<http://www.emro.who.int/emh-journal/authors/emhj-guidelines-on-ethical-conduct-and-publication-of-health-research.html>).
