

Deadline to register: 12 May 2022

TDR and the Institute Pasteur in Tunis, Tunisia, the TDR-supported regional training centre for WHO's Eastern Mediterranean Region, are organizing a session in Arabic of the TDR Massive Open Online Course on implementation research for countries from the Region.

This free course is a step-by-step online training for public health researchers and decision-makers, disease control programme managers, academics and others, that focuses on how to design and demonstrate robust implementation research projects to improve control of infectious diseases of poverty and generate better health outcomes.

This course is open to all applicants. No technical or scientific background is required, though a health background will be an advantage.

Language: Arabic with subtitles in English, Spanish and French

The course starts on 16 May 2022.

Registration link

\(given by TDR\) for more information the flyer Consult the flyer

More information about the TDR&nbsp;Massive Open Online Course

Tuesday 14th of May 2024 03:56:20 AM