

Eastern Mediterranean Health Journal

Licence for publication

The Eastern Mediterranean Health Journal (EMHJ) requires each author of a contribution to grant an exclusive licence to help ensure international protection against infringement of copyright, in particular unauthorized photocopying, digital distribution, and other use by third parties, and so that it can handle requests from third parties to reproduce contributions or parts of contributions. If copyright is held by your employer, please obtain the employer's express authority to grant an exclusive licence. If you are a government employee please obtain express authority to grant a non-exclusive licence to publish and exploit subsidiary rights.

If the contribution(s) are not published in either the print or electronic versions of the EMHJ within 12 months of acceptance (or as otherwise agreed), this agreement shall automatically terminate and all rights shall revert to the copyright owner.

In consideration of the publication in the EMHJ of my/our contribution

Full title:

I/we hereby grant to the publisher for the full period of copyright including any renewals or extensions throughout the world and in all languages an exclusive licence to publish the above contribution or permit others to do so in print editions and in digital formats including online and network editions of the journal and in other derivative or collective works and to exploit subsidiary rights in the contributions, including database rights.

I/we confirm that I am/we are the sole authors of the contribution, which is my/our original work. It has not been previously published in whole or substantial part. I am/we are the copyright owner(s) of the contribution or am/are expressly authorized by the copyright owner to grant this licence.

In return for the grant of the exclusive licence, the contributor(s) (or, if copyright is vested in the contributor(s)'s employer, the contributor(s)'s employer) shall have the following rights:

- The right to reproduce a reasonable number of copies of the contribution, by photocopying or downloading from the EMHJ web site, for personal or professional (noncommercial) use. This use includes the contributor(s)'s own teaching purposes.
- The right to post, with the necessary acknowledgement and link to the EMHJ web site, the contribution on the contributor(s)'s own, or the contributor(s)'s institution's web site.
