

Creating links between and improving access to the various sources of food safety data can help Member States to manage food safety nationally. With this end in mind, a user-friendly, interactive on-line tool has been designed to integrate relevant data and information. The new tool, named FOSCOLLAB, should improve data-sharing to support risk assessment and decision-making in food safety.

Related link

FOSCOLLAB Global platform for food safety data and information

Saturday 17th of May 2025 11:55:30 AM