

WHO Regional Office aims to improve access to the latest health knowledge for health care professionals, researchers, clinicians, policy-makers and students in the Region as one of its core functions. Ensuring access to health information contributes to attainment of health for all and the targets of the Millennium Development Goals.

Capacity-building and better utilization of health information resources is being achieved through the following regional and global initiatives.

Saturday 17th of May 2025 12:25:44 PM