WHO, in collaboration with governments affected by the Syrian crisis, has established an early warning alert and response network through their respective ministries of health. It is a network to strengthen the national surveillance system to detect outbreak threats in the Syria emergency situation. The EWARN is now well implemented in Iraq, Jordan, Lebanon and Syria.

Bulletins

Regional early warning and response bulletin, March 2015, [pdf 561kb]

Regional early warning and response bulletin, February 2015, [pdf 538kb] Tuesday 29th of April 2025 11:08:50 AM