

Every year WHO holds an art competition as part of its World Health Day activities. The theme of this year's Day is hypertension – also known as high blood pressure. Children are encouraged to contribute to efforts to prevent hypertension by participating in World Health Day's 2013 art competition.

Related links

World Health Day art competition 2013

Saturday 27th of April 2024 07:56:02 AM