

20 December 2021 – On 17 December, Oman Society of Obstetrics and Gynecology (OSOG), in collaboration with the WHO country office in Oman, conducted training to build capacity in laparoscopic knowledge and skills among young obstetricians and gynaecologists in Oman.

Dr Jean Jabbour, WHO Representative in Oman, and WHO technical officers were invited to attend the opening ceremony.

The need for training on laparoscopic management emerged as a key priority for a significant number of doctors working across various facilities in Oman. Training doctors through a hands-on workshop and providing skilled opportunities for mentorship to young doctors are essential to provide and maintain high-quality services.

© 2014 WHO. All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted, in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording, or by any information storage or retrieval system, without prior permission in writing from the World Health Organization.

Tuesday 30th of April 2024 07:42:59 PM