

WHO Representative for Oman Dr Abdullah Assa'edi presents a retirement plaque to Mr Said Al Habsi. WHO Oman staff held a farewell for Mr Said Al Habsi who recently retired after 10 years of service to WHO Oman as a senior driver. Mr Al Habsi's tireless commitment to his work found him driving WHO staff and guests to official events both during regular work hours and after hours. Due to his commitment to safety and security, passengers always arrived safely and timely to their destinations despite the increasing number of road traffic crashes in the country.

Mr Al Habsi joined the UN by first working with the United Nations Development Programme before moving to the UNICEF Country Office in 1994 and WHO in 2002.
