

Men navigate their way through the floodwater in Kasur, Punjab, Pakistan, to survey damaged crops.

Aftermath of flash floods in Narowal, Punjab, Pakistan, shows crops destroyed by the water.

Flash floods in Kasur, destroy crops.

Flash floods in Narowal, destroy crops.

Flash floods in Rajanpur, Punjab, destroy crops and roads.

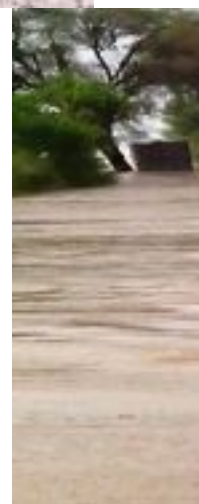

Following flash floods in Rajanpur a rescue operation is undertaken to save lives.

The flood water in Rajanpur turns roads into rivers.

The flash floods in Rajanpur have damaged major roads making some areas inaccessible.

Flash floods in Rajanpur have turned roads into rivers in many places.

At least 250 people in Punjab have been displaced by flood water.