

Emerging Voices for Global Health (EV4GH) is an innovative multi-partner blended training programme for young, promising and emerging health policy and systems researchers, decision-makers and other health system actors with an interest to become influential global health voices and/or local change makers. EV4GH coaches “Emerging Voices” to participate actively in international conferences where global health issues are addressed and to raise their voice in scientific and policy debates.

Call for Emerging Voices for Global Health 2018 at the Fifth Global Health Symposium on Health Systems Research

Tuesday 7th of May 2024 07:32:47 PM