8 November 2020 – 13 research projects have been recommended for funding following a ca
for applications
that aims to promote health research as a tool for national development programming, and to increase the use of evidence-based action and health planning for provision of equitable healt care.

care.
The focus for this round of the Special Grant for Research in Priority Areas of Public Health are the strategic directions identified in WHO's strategy for the Eastern Mediterranean Region, 2020–2023 Turning Vision 2023 into action .
Country
Institution
Project title
Project title

Somalia

WHO EMRO | Grants awarded by the WHO Regional Office for Research in Priority Areas of Public Health

Islamic Republic of Iran
Isfahan University of Medical Sciences
Designing an educational programme for promoting community participation in natural disasters based Lebanon
University of Balamand
Environmental exposures in lebanese infants
Pakistan
Aga Khan University, Karachi
Factors associated with low-cost opportunistic breast cancer screening by mammography in resource
Jordan

WHO EMRO | Grants awarded by the WHO Regional Office for Research in Priority Areas of Public Health

Cairo Association against Smoking, TB and Lung Diseases (CASTLE)

Assessing knowledge, attitude and use of novel tobacco products among journalists in Egypt

4/5

WHO EMRO | Grants awarded by the WHO Regional Office for Research in Priority Areas of Public Health