Ohio State University

Ohio State University Hospital

Ohio State University Wexner Medical Center

Ohio State University College of Medicine

Ohio State University

Ohio State University

Ohio State University

Ohio State University

Ohio State University

Ohio State University

Ohio State University
Office for the Eastern Mediterranean to take part in a 2-day workshop that aims at continuing the practical steps of a health sector modernization programme in Iraq. The workshop will be held on 9–10 May 2012 in the Regional Office.

URL to full text:

How does RSS work?

To use RSS on your computer you will need to obtain a program called a news reader, which allows you to collect and display RSS feeds from your chosen web sites. There are many different types of news reader available.

How do I access WHO RSS feeds?

You need to set your news reader to retrieve the RSS feed from the WHO web site. To do this you will need to copy the link to the service you wish to subscribe to. You then need to follow the instructions for your particular news reader to subscribe to a new service, and paste this link into your news reader.