The WHO Regional Office for the Eastern Mediterranean employs a diverse workforce of long-term and temporary staff in countries of the Eastern Mediterranean Region.

In line with the WHO mission to provide global leadership in public health, we employ health specialists, medical doctors, scientists, epidemiologists and also people with expertise in administration and finance, information systems, economics, health statistics, as well as emergency preparedness and response.

» Related links

» Careers at WHO

» How to apply

» Internships

» Volunteers

Sunday 7th of July 2024 12:21:52 AM