Protecting children from tobacco industry interference

Application form

On 31 May 2024, WHO will celebrate World No Tobacco Day.

The tobacco problem is one of the biggest public health threats the world has ever faced, killing about 8.3 million people a year globally. More than 7 million of those deaths are the result of direct tobacco use, while about 1.3 million deaths result from non-smokers being exposed to second-hand smoke.

Surveys tell us that, in most countries, children aged 13–15 years are using tobacco and nicotine products. To protect future generations and ensure that tobacco use continues to decline, WHO is dedicating this year's World No Tobacco Day to protecting children from tobacco industry interference.

The campaign aims to amplify young people's voices, expose tobacco industry tactics and increase public awareness of the need to defend health policies and protect the health of future generations.

WHO stands with young people globally who demand that governments protect them against a deadly industry that targets them with harmful new products while outright lying about the health impacts.

We want you to be a part of World No Tobacco Day. So, using your imagination and creative skills, create a drawing or painting related to tobacco control and enter our art competition. Before you begin, read up on this important health issue and talk to your parents or caregivers, teachers and friends about your ideas for your artwork.

Key facts about tobacco

Tobacco is a leading cause of death, illness and impoverishment.

Tobacco kills up to half of its users who don't quit.

Tobacco kills about 8.3 million people each year, including about 1.3 million non-smokers who are exposed to second-hand smoke.

About 80% of the world's 1.3 billion tobacco users live in low- and middle-income countries.

In 2020, 22.3% of the world's population used tobacco: 36.7% of men and 7.8% of women.

To address the tobacco problem, WHO Member States adopted the WHO Framework Convention on Tobacco Control in 2003. Currently, 182 countries are Parties to this Convention.

All forms of tobacco use are harmful, and there is no safe level of exposure to tobacco. Cigarette smoking is the most common form of tobacco use worldwide. Other tobacco products include waterpipe tobacco, cigars, cigarillos, roll-your-own tobacco, pipe tobacco, bidis and kreteks, and smokeless tobacco products.

New forms of tobacco, including e-cigarettes and heated tobacco, are as harmful as traditional forms of tobacco. They are all dangerous and cause deadly diseases and harmful health impacts.

According to the latest Global Youth Tobacco Survey, a school-based survey that focuses on young people aged 13–15 years, tobacco smoking is on the rise among girls and women in the Eastern Mediterranean Region. Across countries of the Region, smoking prevalence is 2.6–31.4% among girls and 0.7–29% among women.

Everyone has a role to play

Whether on our own or as part of a community, we can all play a part in protecting younger generations against the tactics of the tobacco industry. We can do this by telling more children and adults about this problem, and engaging with people, groups and organizations that can take action.
