

World mental health report: transforming mental health for all

Publication date: 2023

Mental health is critically important to everyone, everywhere. All over the world, mental health needs are high but responses are insufficient and inadequate. The World mental health report: transforming mental health for all is designed to inspire and inform better mental health for everyone everywhere. Drawing on the latest evidence available, showcasing examples of good practice from around the world, and voicing people's lived experience, it highlights why and where change is most needed and how it can best be achieved. It calls on all stakeholders to work together to deepen the value and commitment given to mental health, reshape the environments that influence mental health, and strengthen the systems that care for mental health.

English

Arabic (Executive summary)

French (Executive summary)

World mental health report: new understanding, new hope

Publication date: 2001

The theme of World Health Day 2001 was “Stop exclusion – Dare to care”. Its message was that there is no justification for excluding people with a mental illness or brain disorder from our communities – there is room for everyone. The theme of this report is “New understanding, new hope”. It shows how science and sensibility are combining to break down real and perceived barriers to care and cure in mental health.

English

Friday 3rd of May 2024 02:15:14 AM